filled the air as our Bruin Orchestra once again delivered a supreme year of award-winning music. Mr. Rolland Sandberg plus 95 talented artists made up the precise combination of a beautiful symphonic orchestra which repeated another season of being rated one of the top five in the nation. The group traveled to San Diego and numerous other cities to take part in music festivals and gained superior honors in all. Classtime and evening practices paid off as capacity audiences were delighted by polished concerts, including the outstanding holiday program and annual spring festival.

the Bicentennial seemed to be this year's main goal, and helping to fulfill the goal were the 75-76 Pepsters. A halftime used in commemorating the nation's birthday proved worthwhile of the hours of practice. Costumes, red white and blue flags and pompoms, plus decorative devices on batons added to the over all halftime success. In addition to working on routines the pepsters, with Mrs. Kemp as their sponsor, perfected rock outs and yells and also put to use what was taught to them at different summer camps. New this year at Wilson was the position of feature majorette, Jenny Bozoff, Responsibility of leading the groups was given to Patti Long (head pepster). Tracey Brotz (head majorette), Janice Johansen (head flag), and Tina Byers (head song) illustrated the spirit generated during pep rallies and assemblies. The pulsing rhythm of the stageband set the beat for the Pepster's lively routines. Yell leaders, accompanied by the Pepsters and Bruinettes, stimulated the student body with soul-stirring yells and cheers. Skits, guest speakers, and special movie made by Ms. Townley's film analysis class on football season highlights were added attractions. Whether outside or inside, "Bruin Power" was obvious throughout these events.

school activities and representing students in school government. Fall student council busied themselves improving conditions for students at Woson. First semester, student council exchanged ideas with other schools through conferences and visitations and planned the homecoming festivities. The council also worked on the revision of the Bear Facts and service points, and instituted the publication of a biweekly fine arts bulletin. Serving student needs and providing a strong voice to the administration were two accomplishments of Fall council.

Marked my outlook for the success of the Spring Student Council. With a cooperative effort by the members of the council, the initial ideals we set were fulfilled. Hoping to see an enactment of my own personal convictions, I urged the group to gear its thoughts not only toward school related affairs, but also on projects for the betterment of the community-for example, a permanant recycling center on campus. The members of the council succeeded in serving their school admirably, and gaining valuable experience while so doing to working hard, the Naval Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps began one month before summer vacation ended. They drilled diligently after school, on week-ends, and one month into summer. Over the nine years of participating in parades and drill competitions, the cadets received more than 50 trophies. This year's rifle team rated 25th in the nation.

Field trips offered real experience as 50 cadets toured the Pacific Missile Range-Naval Missile Center at Point Mugu. Also on March 28 to April 2, 8 cadets left on a navy cruise that took them out to sea.

The NJROTC program enabled students to readily enter the Naval Academy and to start at a higher pay scale in the military. Most of the program was run by Cadet Commander David Ecklund and his stalf may I have your attention please? (Slam) Attention please! (Slam) (Slam) Woodrow Wilson did a show to beat all shows, oh yes! It was by far the most tremendous (Slam), stupendous (Slam), overall largest productions they've ever done! There was a cast of eighty plus orchestra, pom-pom girls, and the marching band with golden frombones -Raaaa-raaa, ra-da-da-da-da. Well, I say nothin' could have happened if it weren't for special people. People with a capital P and that rhymes with D and that stands for directors Co-directing, said, co-directing were Mr. King. and Mr. Mays. (Slam) Orchestra, pit orchestra was led by Mr. Sandberg-some sound! As sure as the Lord made little green apples, those dancin' kids were good! Choreography was to the tee, because of Marrillyn McDowell. Remember my friends the stage design Mr. Eilerman did up so fine! students voiced their opinions through a number of committees. Composed of department heads and students. Curriculum Committee worked to provide a better selection of classes. Among the topics debated this year was whether to give History credit in Symposium.

Student Interest Committee served as a liason between students and administration. Current problems such as racial tension and smoking areas were discussed.

Students responded to our country's 200th birthday with the formation of the Bicentennial Committee, which attempted to get Wilson in a patriotic spirit by painting trash cans and planting a bicentennial garden

Principal's Advisory Committee formed a subcommittee on human relations to work on problems here at Wilson activities. The cultural dancing of Fecha was seen in the first Construct, in Kampus Kapers and on Cinco de Mayo Day Members also sold Mexican food at Homecoming and organized a historical bulletin booth. Much of the Black Students' Club's activities revolved around Black History Week The theme of the week acknowledged black peoples' contribution to performing arts. They did this through singing, a piano solo and dancing.

Wilson students beat the insurance red tape. Interested people formed facets of the Explorer Outpost in sports they liked. The Backpacking Club proved to be the most popular this year. Mr. Phillip Andersen, Mr. Marten Kallenberger and Dana Brown led 106 Bruins in organizing and developing their backpacking skills. Members were able to get away from it all with trips to the Joshua Tree Forest. San Jacinto and the Sierras.

The Water Ski Club, the only one of its kind known in Southern California, made a splash on campus Almost every weekend, Marine Stadium or Golden Ave nue was the site of skiing get-togethers organized by sponsor Denis Richmond. At the end of the season members celebrated with a steak barbaque. Water Ski President was Jeff D sney; Vice President, Steve Hausheer and Secretary, Lucy Rowell.

Karen McGrew sponsored the Snow Ski Club to continue this active group. A late snow season hampered their plans but not their spirit. The members had beautiful skiing for five days at Lake Tahoe and then again for a weekend in Mammoth. With the lead ership of Mike Schroeder, Lisa Holzman, Mark Gross and Theresa Anderson meetings offered films and speakers.

Clubs made a great showing this year at Wilson Bruins displayed their wide variety of interests by forming diverse recreational groups. One of these organizations was the Bowling Club, sponsored by Mr. Sol Ashkenenaze. Students gathered every Tuesday at Java Lanes afterschool and formed small teams for league play. President Jeff McMurray and Vice President John Tolbert kept track of statistics and standings throughout the year.

Bacchus after the Greek god who symbol zes pleasure and good times. Dedication characterized members as they were everpresent flinging frisbees all around the Wilson quad. The purpose of this club was for students to develop their frisbee skills with fun workouts. This group was led by Jim Hamiland sponsored by Mrs. Ethel Welton of the counseling office. From Bacchus stemmed the powerful Wilson Frisbee Team which affiliated with the International Frisbee Association to be included in a seven team league which competed a liover the county. Co-captains of the team were Will Allen and Sean Davitt.

"I am an exchange student from Tucson, Arizona and am staying in Long Beach for one semester. The AFS domestic program has given me an opportunity not only to learn of other lifestyles, but also to learn and discover myself. The kids here share the same ideas and interests as those back home, so I find myself fitting right in I have been kept busy with several AFS assemblies and short term exchanges, enjoying and benefiting from all."

-Mary Lynn Dodson

Beside intelligence and a knack with numbers, the Wilson Math Team had Mr. Anderson to coordinate The team consisted of twelve exceptional mathematicians who excelled in almost every contest entered. The All-City champs gained five firsts out of six events; they won fifth out of 118 schools in the Occidental Contest, and this was their fourth straight year in the Pomona Contest finals.

Mr. Powell's instruction on voice quality, intonation, inflection, speed, and articulation, along with his potential students provided Wilson with a top notch Speech Team. They met daily to practice and better speeches to be delivered in competitions, tournaments, and at service clubs. Some were pre-written and others were impromptuins year, member Frank McCabe qualified for the State Tournament held in San Francisco.

saw two new faces enter the administrative officers. Mrs. Cooke and Mr. Parent filled the vacant assistant principal jobs. Though no longer a rookie, Mr. Ellis continued to keep communication channels open. His second year as principal brought staff and students closer People saw him in the crowds sharing thoughts, but Mr. Ellis also liked to think alone.

I walk the halls of Wilson High School and I hear many things. When school is in session these halls ring with laughter, resound with voices, echo the footsteps of students. When I walk them alone they are quiet. Yet somehow that laughter, those voices, those footsteps linger on. It seems almost that sounds of fifty years can still be heard-the eager cry of victory ringing out from field and gym and pool, the agony of silence following defeat; the sweet sound of concert and play, of speech and dance. Yes, for fifty years. tens of thousands of students have lived a part of their lives in these halls. Together they have made the Wilson legend. For 200 years our nation has made its mark upon the history of mankind. For the last fifty of those years Wilson. has been part of that great tradition. I walk the halls and I hear the sound of voices that truly are Wilson High. I feel small and humble, yet proud 1 find strength in those who came before me. I offer hope to those who will come after to keep the legend alive

1. Mr Ellis looked to the tricycle races on homecoming day. In his well known stance, Mr Ellis explained with one hand and rattled his keys with the other. 2. Listening to a student Mr. McKenzie summed up another story. 3. One does not need words for Mr. Ware's face. 4. Ms. Cooke inspired Girls League members to attend meetings. 5. Mr. Parent took over Mr. Workman's job as assistant principal, he was in charge of the Independent Studies Program.

love and devotion put Ms. Marty Walker where she is today: helping blind students work towards a rewarding future. Her service extended to coaching golf; Ms. Walker was the sole woman varsity coach at Wilson, and led her team to league championships. She loves to travel, has been to 89 different countries and all 50 states, but was mostly dedicated to serving those here at Wilson.

1. Enjoying a break from a hard days work, the ladies, Ms Balmer, Ms Crownover, and Ms Townley took time out for a social visit. 2. Mrs. Walker enjoyed learning right along with Mike Killian. 3. Mr. Mays broadcasted the football score to Wison High, Mr. Hendricks coached tennis for some twenty years, the longest in the Moore League. A graduate of the University of Santa Barbara, he taught science, English, history social studies, and health. Back in the forties when Mr. Hendricks attended Wilson, the school operated on a rotating schedule. -four days in each classroom one free period a day. Students wore uniforms, football was the Big Sport and fraternities and sororities sponsored many dances. Through the many years spent at Wilson, Mr. Hendricks has seen many changes.

by a strong interest in outdoor sports, and a desire to work with his hands. Denis Richmond had many hobbies. Water skiing, tennis, ice skating, model airplane construction, auto mechanics, football, baseball, bicycling, and flying, filled his hours outside the classroom. As an alumni looking back, Mr. Richmond remembered when school was different. The administration, strictly enforced the rules, unlike the leniency of today. "The dress code has changed considerably," he said. "The girls weren't allowed to wear pants. They always wore dresses."

people contributed special services for students. Ms. McGrew, the first female activities director at Wilson and in Long Beach, spent her first year busi y involved with Zygomas, student council, the musical, the organization of all activities, and Bruinettes.

The nurse, Mrs. Sowa, spent many long hours helping those who need her services-some of which include screening test for Driver Training P.E. excuses and medical referrals for all health problems.

After three and a half years at Wilson, Keith Waibel, the band assistant was involved with the Stage Band 2 and Concert Band. They performed at festivals, concerts, football games, and special events at Disney and and Magic Mountain Directing the musical, the Music Man was Dennis King. Besides working out front with his cast, Mr. King and the stage crew built all the sets for campus productions.

Managing and running the media center, the librarians helped students benefit from the center's resources.

Taking time from her many varied jobs, Ms. McGrew addressed incoming sophomores

learning for the brightest and the slowest was possible in the Media Center. "It in no way requires a change or compromise of academic objectives, rather, it helps to achieve on an individual basis," Librarian Mrs. Kramer, went on to say, "The center provides a realistic approach for students to work as inquiring learners. As students work independently, apart from external pressure and competition, they learn to expicre define, and develop their own interests and abilities."

paint brushes, paper, easels, clay and imagination made Wilson's art department what it was. Many students took advantage of the various art medias to express themselves in constructive ways. The highlight of the year was the student art show held during Public Schools Week. The show displayed over a thousand pieces of student work.

Whether learning about our new surroundings, telling about last night's game, or even acting as another person, it fell under English and it's usage. No longer is English thought of as just verbs and nouns, for now through our large selection of elective English we can see that it is our total means of communication. Drama with its one acts completly directed and casted by Wilson's star struck students was a total success. Senior Honors in its third year continued to concentrate on independent studies. Once the English language is conquered, there are always obstacles for one to tackle, like learning to be the same person in a foreign language.

played a pivotal role in the success of sophomore water polo team. "At the beginning of the year, the players had difficulty working together as a team," stated Coach Bob Gruneisen. After a preseason record of 8 wins, 4 losses, he was proud of their progress as a team and optimistic about their chances in the Moore League. Lance Lapay, fon Danner, J.P. Pearce, Brad Bolicek, and Simone Lapay, first girl ever to be elected captain, played exceptionally well throughout the season.

A J.V. pre-season record of 7 wins, 3 losses proved to be good practice for the team. After ironing out their problems, they pursued the league championship. Outstanding players were Matt McCormick, Jeff Dvonch, Dan Danner, Gregg Whelan, and Keith Dodson. The highlights of this year's season were the three victories, soph., J.V., and Varsity, over Downey and the wins against Milikan and Palo Verdes, which were the turning points of the season.

a disheartening pre-season, Wilson's squad was up for their Moore League opener with Millikan. The defense smothered all Ram scoring threats while the ground game accounted for all the points needed in a 13-0 blanketing. Wilson's defense again overcame shabby ball handling and held tough while Kent Dyer sparked the scoring with an 89 yard kickoff return and a touchdown run of 13 yards, giving the team a homecoming victory over Jordan.

Entering the Poly game with more on the line than just rivalry, namely the Moore League title, the Wilson Bruins gave away the game by committing six turnovers. A poor kicking game also added to the team's downfall, with the entire effort producing a 13-31 shellacking at the paws of the Jackrabbits

Wilson bounced back from the Poly loss, using a balanced attack to defeat Compton, 20-7. Dyer raced for 111 yards while quarterback Mike Peters enjoyed his best effort of the season. An 80 yard fourth quarter pass from Peters to Ron Half sealed a victory over Lakewood, clinching Wilson's first playoff berth in six years

The team entered the first playoff contest with high hopes. Wilson's line controlled the game for the most part, but a last minute scoring drive by Foothill resulted in a loss, 17-23

Opening Moore League play, Bruins turnovers were costly in a 19-12 loss to Millikan. Coach Dave Burcham described Wilson's massacre of Jordan as "our best effort of the season." A 14-7 victory over Poly did not reflect the outstanding effort by the Bruins. In the final game of the season, a Wilson drive halted on the Lakewood 1 yard line as the gun sounded, providing the margin of victory for the Lancers for the season's play, this year's sophomore team played a tough preseason schedule, finishing 1-2-1. Opening with a furious defensive contest, the sophomores fought West Torrance to a 0-0 tie. During the next two games, the defense remained tough, but the offense floundered, causing consecutive losses to Fountain Valley and El Rancho. Coming on hard in the final game before league play, the sophs beat Mater Dei soundly, 26-0, to set the tempo for the season, which began against Millikan.

The sophomores were well prepared as they began the season by trouncing Millikan, 18-0, with the defense playing consistently strong. But against Jordan, bad luck, errors and tougher opposition caused the first loss of the season.

However, the sophs came back fired up and beat Poly soundly, 12-7, with only the special teams letting down to allow a score.

Compton was the next step to what would prove to be the championship game. After beating the Tarbabes decisively, the sophs, now 3-1, entered the final game against Lakewood for the league championship. At the end of this defensive contest, the score stood 6-6, and the sophomores were the co-champs of the Moore League and defense provided the Bruins with their first Moore League win over Jordan after an opening loss to Millikan. Overpowered by number one ranked Poly Wilson lost 79-55. Invading the Bruin gym, a much talter Compton team dominated inside and put Wilson down to its third defeat in league. A home court advantage and the absence of Millikan's leading scorer could not help the Bruins as they suffered their fourth straight defeat.

Gary Mulder and Steve Hunt led a balanced attack that snapped the Bruin losing streak with a win at Jordan. A Moore League single game high of 42 points by Gary Mulder was the only bright spot in a 13 point loss to Compton.

All-City stars Craig Kussman and Carl Hess played a vital part in the Varsity Tennis Team's quest for the Moore League Crown. An experienced squad of six returning letterman triggered Coach Robert Hendricks' remark. "This is my best team in 20 years of coaching."

Ripping through preseason with only two losses to tennis powers Palos Verdes and Newport Harbor, the Bruins opened league against always tough Maikan followed by matches against Jordan, the defending champion Poly, much improved Compton and crosed out play against Lakewood

Headed for Moore League action, Wison's JV tennis team finished an explosive preseason with a 7-1 record. The number one player Andy Reece helped Wilson manhandle Millikan in the Moore League opener. Tough matches against Poly and Lakewood culminated in the league championsh p different skills, the girls participated in various GRA activities GRA board, headed by Lydia Webb (fal.) and Christy Carne (spring), reinstituted old traditions. First was the return of lettergirls' sweaters. Each girl was required to attend the majority of the practices and games to earn a letter. Letters were presented at an awards assembly at the end of each semester. An awards banquet was planned at the end of the year with most valuable player awards given.

Rainy weather was a problem for the girls' basketball teams. To overcome this obstacle, morning practices were held in the gym. Three teams were chosen with eight girls on each. Ms. Terry Stevens coached the teams.

Uneven parallel bars, balance beam and vaulting horse were some of the equipment fifth period gymnastics class worked with. The girls were required to attend one after school practice on Tuesday for the first Lemester. They displayed their skills at a Christmas assembly put on for other classes and at open house for parents.
